

is associated, is a very welcome addition to the insignia of the Club.

Steps have now been taken in the formation of the Dundee High School Old Boys' Club Literary Society, and by the time the Magazine is issued the first Meeting, which is to take the form of a "Hat Night," will be held. The Literary Society is fortunate in having secured the services of the following Office-Bearers :—
Chairman—Mr. Ronald S. Aiken ; Vice-Chairman—Mr. R. S. Snodgrass ; Hon. Secretary—Mr. D. W. Kidney, 58 Dalkeith Road, Dundee ; Hon. Treasurer—Mr. Alastair R. Kidd.

It is anticipated that the Literary Society will form a very useful link in allowing the younger members of the Club to keep in touch with one another, and full particulars as to membership will be gladly furnished by Mr. Kidney.

It is very gratifying to report that at long last the membership of the Club has crossed the 500 mark and now stands as follows :—

Ordinary Members	374
Life Members	131
Honorary Member	1

			506

A full list is being circulated to the members, and any corrections should be notified as soon as possible to the Honorary Secretary, C. E. Stuart, 11 Panmure Street, Dundee.

It is just a year now since a reference was made in the Magazine to matters of personal interest, relative to Old Boys, being incorporated in this section. The High School education, while enabling former pupils to gain many noteworthy achievements, has succeeded eminently in developing their native modesty, and the secretary regrets that he has received no such items of personal interest for publication. He would, however, remind members that any such items will be welcomed and included in future issues from time to time.

The Rev. Dr. Millar Patrick, Craigmillar, Park Church, Edinburgh, an F.P. of D.H.S. (he was in the same class as Dr. Murray), was recently honoured at St Andrews University for his work in founding the Scottish Students' Song Book.

Old Boys' Club—Annual Dinner.

THE Annual dinner of the old Boys' Club was held in Draffen's Rooms on Friday, 4th December, when a very representative gathering assembled under the chairmanship of Mr Leslie B. Weatherhead. There were over a hundred members of the club present, and the meal provided was well up to the high standard of excellence which has come to be associated with that part of the function. That the spirit of friendship and good-fellowship for which the club stands is growing and spreading was evidenced by the large number of letters from all parts of the world, which were read out by the secretary, Mr Chas. E. Stuart, and by the cordiality of their sentiments. In asking the Very Rev. Principal W. M. McGregor to propose the toast of the evening, The School and The Club, Mr Weatherhead said how pleased the club were to have him present, head of one of the most famous Theological Colleges in the country, Ex-Moderator of the Church of Scotland, an authority on the Western Highlands and Islands, they were proud to have him as one of the honorary officials of the club. The Principal said that it was over sixty years since he left the High School and, looking back, it seemed to him that though the school in those days appeared to be only an association of traders in knowledge operating independently in the same premises, yet it did its work and had its ornaments, and in one of the happiest and wittiest speeches yet delivered to the club, he went back in reminiscence over old days, old masters and old boys. He concluded by saying that in the near future the members of the club might have the opportunity of providing the necessary preliminary required for the future development of the school. In replying to the toast, Mr W. Stirling Draffen paid tribute to the way in which it had been proposed. The mind of a boy, he said, is clay to impress but marble to retain and he gave as the two ingredients for success brain power and hard work. He made a plea for the dull boy, who has to work hard even to scrape through school while the bright boy may sail through easily yet without having learned the vital lesson of how to work. He concluded with an appeal to the present boys of the urgency of acquiring as much knowledge as possible as, in his view, the only hope for civilisation lay in the victory of pure reason, disciplined knowledge and broad culture. Mr Eric Larg, one of the younger members of the club, in a very neatly turned and aptly worded speech, paid tribute to the chairman, and, in replying, Mr Weatherhead said how honoured he felt in occupying the chair and in being made president of the club. He said that Dundee High School was a type of school indigenous to Scotland, and suggested that any appeal that the Directors might issue should be sent to the whole of the community, as he felt sure that they would not like to see one of the old Scottish schools lose its individuality through lack of funds. He concluded by assuring the Directors of the hearty co-operation of the club. Songs and music were provided at intervals and the evening closed in informal conversations. Altogether a very happy and enjoyable night.
