THE HIGH SCHOOL OF DUNDEE consists of two Schools—a Boys' School and a Girls' School—and provides a liberal education both for boys and for girls. It accordingly supplies instruction in all the usual English branches, and also in Classics, Modern Languages, Mathematics, Science, Commerce, Music, and Drawing.

ACCOMMODATION, SUPERVISION, AND SUBJECTS OF STUDY.

GIRLS' SCHOOL.

In the Girls' School the Rector has associated with him in the supervision of the School a highly educated and experienced Lady Superintendent, whose duty it is to exercise a general superintendence over the girls, to visit their class-rooms, to regulate their conduct and manners, and to advise and aid them in the preparation of their lessons.

In addition to the usual class-room accommodation, which is of a very complete and thoroughly modern character, the Girls' School contains a large assembly hall, a science lecture room, and a suite of eight music rooms. Three of the class-rooms have been specially equipped for the teaching of drawing, painting, and enamelling, and two for the teaching of sewing. In the furnishing of the school every provision has been made for securing the health and comfort of the girls. The cloak rooms and lavatories have been fitted with the most modern improvements, and a covered play-shed has been provided where the girls may have exercise in inclement weather. The girls have the use of part of the boys' playground for out-door exercise at certain intervals and under suitable regulations.

The subjects of study in the Girls' School include English, Latin, Greek, French, German, Mathematics, Science, Handwriting, Book-keeping, Phonography, Commercial Correspondence, Needlework, Dressmaking, Cookery, Singing, Drawing, Painting, Gymnastics, and Calisthenics. The classes for Pianoforte Instruction, Violin, Cookery, and Dancing are voluntary, and the hours for these are so arranged as not to interfere with the regular work of the pupils. Pupils in the Secondary Department only and special pupils may have instruction in Cookery. Swimming is taught throughout the School Session.

BOYS' SCHOOL.

The pupils in the Boys' School are under the immediate supervision of the Rector.

The Boys' School contains, in addition to the usual class-room accommodation, a commodious and well-equipped chemical laboratory, an excellent physical laboratory, constructed and fitted up to meet the most modern requirements, a spacious workshop, and a gymnasium. Suitable verandahs, cloak rooms, lavatories, &c., are provided for the comfort and convenience of the pupils. In the gymnasium, which is equipped with the most approved apparatus, the girls as well as the boys have Drill, Calisthenics, and Gymnastics under qualified instructors. A Recreation Ground, five acres in extent and within easy access, has been provided at a cost of nearly £3,000 for Football, Cricket, Hockey, Lawn Tennis, and other outdoor games and pastimes, which are conducted under careful supervision. The Recreation Ground is open to girls as well as boys.

The subjects of study in the Boys' School include English, Latin, Greek, French, German, Mathematics, Science, Handwriting, Book-keeping, Phonography, Commercial Correspondence, Drawing, Gymnastics, and Military Drill. The pupils may also avail themselves of the voluntary classes for Pianoforte Instruction, Violin, and Dancing. Swimming is taught throughout the School Session.

ORGANIZATION.

Curricula. Each School is divided into two grades, these two grades being each subdivided into two Departments, as follows:—

I.—LOWER SCHOOL—

- { (a) Preparatory Department, including Classes I.A., I.B., I.C., and II.
- { (b) Junior Department, including Classes III. and IV.

II.—UPPER SCHOOL—

- { (a) Intermediate Department, including Classes V. to VII.
- { (b) Secondary Department, including Classes VIII. to X.

THE PREPARATORY SCHOOL—for pupils from 5 to 10 years of age—where the ordinary English branches are taught. Parents are particularly requested to consider the advantages to be derived by sending their children to the Preparatory Department of the High School. Pupils who have been trained in the Preparatory School enter the Junior School at the same stage of advancement, and are prepared to take full advantage of the course of study in the First Year of the Junior School. The teaching is more effective and the progress of the pupils more certain when the attention of the Teacher is not distracted by pupils who enter the Junior School without having received a suitable elementary education.

THE JUNIOR SCHOOL—for pupils from 10 to 12 years of age—in which all the subjects of the Preparatory School are continued, and French added.

THE UPPER SCHOOL—for pupils from 12 years of age upwards—comprising Classes V. to X. In the Fifth Class Latin, Mathematics, and Science are added to the Curriculum. From the Sixth Class upwards the school has three parallel courses of instruction—the CLASSICAL, the MODERN WITH LATIN, and the TECHNICAL (or MODERN). Parents should be careful at this stage to notify to the Rector which of these Courses they wish their children to enter. In the Eighth Class two further curricula are added, viz., the COMMERCIAL, and the DOMESTIC COURSE (for Girls). The CLASSICAL, and the MODERN WITH LATIN, Courses are specially intended for those who mean to go forward to the Universities. The former embraces Latin, Greek, and a Modern Language; the latter, Latin and French, or German. The COMMERCIAL and the TECHNICAL Courses are designed specially for those who have in view a business career, though the latter Course also prepares pupils who mean to go forward to the Universities with a view to Science or Engineering Degrees. The High School has long been provided with a large and well equipped Chemical Laboratory and Workshop. By the addition of a Physical Laboratory the Directors have completed the equipment of the Science side of the school, where there is now imparted a thorough and progressive course of instruction in the elements of Science, forming a suitable preliminary training for pupils who mean to pursue the study of Science or Medicine at the Universities, or those who intend to become manufacturers, mechanical or electrical engineers, architects, builders, or agriculturists.

Classification of Schools : Primary, Intermediate, and Secondary Schools.

The division of the School into the different grades and departments above-mentioned, agrees closely with the classification of Schools now adopted by the Education Department, which is as follows :—Schools are of three kinds—Primary, Intermediate, and Secondary. A School or department of a School giving an education based entirely upon English to pupils who are, as a rule, below the age of 14, is called a Primary School. A School providing at least a three years' course of Secondary Education—including, as a rule, instruction in a language or languages other than English—to pupils who have passed the Qualifying Examination (see below, paragraph headed "Government Examinations and Certificates") is called an Intermediate School. A School providing at least a five years' course in Secondary Education beyond the stage of the Qualifying Examination is called a Secondary School. According to this classification the Primary Department of the High School includes Classes I. to IV., the Intermediate Department Classes V. to VII., and the Secondary Department Classes VIII. to X. The Intermediate and Secondary Departments of a School are sometimes classed together as the Higher Department of the School, and the education given in the Higher Department is spoken of as Higher Education. The classification of Schools and departments of Schools into Primary, Intermediate, and Secondary is important, as it forms the basis of the Education Department's arrangements and regulations with regard to Examinations, Grants, Training of Teachers, and their educational policy generally.

Exemptions from the Prescribed Courses. The Directors are of opinion that a systematic and complete course of study should be taken by all pupils if they are to receive a well-balanced, thorough, and liberal training. Accordingly a fixed minimum fee, which covers all the ordinary subjects of instruction prescribed for the year in each of the different courses, is charged for each year of the course. Exemptions may be granted on special grounds, but fees on a somewhat higher scale (see page 16) are charged for classes apart from the prescribed courses. The Directors earnestly advise parents not to seek exemptions, but to take for their children a complete Course of Study.

Special Subjects. In addition to the ordinary subjects of the various courses, instruction by highly-qualified teachers is given in Pianoforte, Violin, Singing and Voice-production, Elocution, Dancing, Cookery, and Dressmaking. (See page 16).

Enrolment of Pupils. New pupils are placed in the year of the Course for which they are, after examination, found to be best fitted. Pupils in the Lower and Upper School should be enrolled at the beginning of the session. To enter the Advanced Classes late is very disadvantageous both to themselves and others.

Examinations. Examinations are periodically conducted in each department by the Rector and Masters. The whole school is also annually examined by the Inspectors appointed by the Scotch Education Department, under their scheme for the examination of Higher Class Schools.

Government Examinations and Certificates. In addition to the general examinations of the School mentioned in the preceding paragraph, there are three special examinations conducted by the Education Department in conjunction with the School authorities, and corresponding to the classification of Schools into Primary, Intermediate, and Secondary mentioned above. These are the Qualifying Examination, the Intermediate Certificate Examination, and the Leaving Certificate Examination. In each of these examinations the pupil is subjected to the triple test of a written examination, an oral examination, and the verdict of the responsible heads of the School on his work.

The Qualifying Examination. Pupils are presented for this Examination, the subjects of which are Elementary English and Arithmetic, at the end of the Fourth Class, and the successful candidates are thereby admitted to the Higher Department of the School, but no grant for Higher Education can be claimed on any pupil who is not 12 years of age, or who has not made at least 80 per cent. of the total possible attendances from the date of enrolment. Pupils who fail to pass this examination at the end of the Fourth Class may be presented for it in any succeeding year.

The Intermediate Certificate Examination. Pupils are generally presented for this examination at the end of the Seventh Class, i.e., after a three years' course of Higher Education, but unsuccessful candidates may, as in the case of the Qualifying Examination, be presented in any succeeding year. Candidates must have been in regular attendance at the School in which they are presented from January preceding the Examination. The subjects of examination are English (including History and Geography), Mathematics, Science, Drawing, and at least one language other than English. There is only one grade of paper set in each subject, known as the Lower Grade (for Higher Grade see under "Leaving Certificate Examination" below). No pupil can be presented for this Examination who has not made the minimum number of attendances recognised by the Education Department over the three years' course in Science and Drawing. The whole examination must be passed at one time, but deficiency in one subject will, to some extent, be held to be compensated for by excellence in another. On pupils who have passed this examination the School is able to claim an increased grant over that claimed on pupils who have passed the Qualifying Examination, but, as in the case of the Qualifying Examination, no grant can be claimed on any pupil who has not made at least 80 per cent. of the total possible attendances. On passing the Intermediate Examination each pupil receives from the Education Department a Certificate known as the Intermediate Certificate, which testifies to his having satisfactorily completed a course of Intermediate Education.

The Leaving Certificate Examination. Candidates for the Leaving Certificate must have completed a course of Post-Intermediate study, of not less than two years' duration, approved by the Education Department, and must, as a rule, have qualified for the award of the Intermediate Certificate in a previous session. The Post-Intermediate Curriculum must provide for the continuous study throughout the course of not less than four of the following subjects :— English, Latin, Greek, French, German, Italian, Spanish, Gaelic, Mathematics, Experimental Science, Geography, History, Drawing, Music, Domestic Science. The number of additional subjects that a pupil may study is left to the discretion of the School Authorities, but it is assumed that provision will always be made for Physical Exercises, and that Music will be taken as a recreative subject at least. For the purposes of this examination there are two grades of papers set in each subject, a Lower and a Higher, except in the case of Italian and Spanish, where there is only a Higher, and in that of Gaelic, where there is only a Lower. The Curriculum must in all cases provide for the study on the Higher Grade level of (a) English, with a subsidiary study of History (not reckoned as a separate subject) and, as a rule, of (b) one language other than English, and (c) either Mathematics or Science, the remaining subject or subjects being any of those enumerated above, without restriction as to grade. This type of Curriculum, which most pupils are expected to follow, is known as the Normal General Course, and any deviation from it will only be allowed on special application to the Department. In order to qualify for the award of the Leaving Certificate pupils must have passed in at least three subjects, one of which must be English, on the Higher Grade standard, and one on the Lower, but comparative excellence in one subject will be allowed to compensate for slight weakness in another. The Lower Grade subject may be passed either at, or after, the Intermediate stage, but it must be studied throughout the Post-Intermediate Course. Pupils must be presented in English and at least two other subjects in the Higher Grade in the year in which they are candidates for the Leaving Certificate. Lower Grade Passes will not be recorded. In the case of Music and Domestic Science the examination will be conducted on similar lines to those held in Science and Drawing, and particulars of the proposed courses of instruction must be submitted for the approval of the Department at the beginning of the Course on a Form to be supplied for the purpose. Candidates for the Leaving Certificate must not be under 17 years of age on the 1st of January following the year in which they enter for the Examination, and, as in the case of the Intermediate Certificate, they must have been in regular attendance at the School in which they are presented from January preceding the Examination.

Passes in the subjects of the Leaving Certificate Examination are accepted in lieu of their own examinations by the following authorities :—

The Lords of Council and Session (for the purposes of the Law Agents' Examinations) ;
The War Office and the Civil Service Commissioners (for the Army Preliminary Examination) ;

The Joint Board of Examiners for the Scottish Universities (for the Preliminary Examination in Arts, Science, and Medicine) ;

The General Medical Council ;
The Royal College of Surgeons, Edinburgh ;
The Pharmacæutical Society of Great Britain ;
The Society of Solicitors before the Supreme Courts ,
The Institute of Accountants and Actuaries in Glasgow ;
The Society of Accountants in Edinburgh ;
The University of St. Andrews (for the Preliminary Examination for the L.L.A. Diploma) ;
The Scottish Education Department (for certain Examinations for Female Teachers' Certificates).

Reports. A Report of the Progress of each pupil is sent to Parents or Guardians in December, March, and June.

Preparation of Lessons. The amount of home work is regulated and kept within reasonable limits, and to this end printed schedules are issued to pupils from time to time on which to fill in the amount of time spent by them over each lesson, these returns to be corroborated by parents or guardians and handed in to the Rector. The information thus obtained enables overpressure to be more effectually dealt with. Time is also devoted each day, as far as possible, to explaining the work prescribed for next lesson, so that pupils who are diligent and self-reliant may thus master their work without further help. At the same time it will be recognised that a certain amount of time, increasing with the pupil's advance in school, must, in his own interest, be devoted to private study.

Country Pupils. Two class-rooms, one in the Boys' School and one in the Girls' School, are available for the use of pupils who have to wait for trains after school hours. In each of these class-rooms one of the masters is in attendance every day from 3.20 to 3.45 p.m.

Divisions of School Year, School Hours, &c.

The SCHOOL YEAR or Session extends from the beginning of September to the end of June.

The QUARTER DAYS are 1st September, 9th November, 1st February, and 12th April.

The HOLIDAYS, during the School Year, are the Autumn Public Holiday, Victoria Day, the Christmas Holidays, the Easter Holidays, and Three Skating Holidays (at the Rector's discretion).

The SCHOOL HOURS extend, in the case of the Preparatory Classes, from 9 to 1 o'clock ; in the other Classes, from 9 to 3.20.

AN INTERVAL OF 35 MINUTES in the Junior and Upper Schools is allowed the pupils for luncheon and recreation in the Playground.

Dinner and Luncheon. Dinner or Luncheon is provided during the interval of 35 minutes allowed for refreshment. The arrangements for purveying are in charge of the Rector and Lady Superintendent, who also preside at Dinner. The Dinners and Luncheons are prepared in the School Kitchen under the superintendence of the Teacher of Cookery.

School Regulations. The following Rules are taken from the School Regulations :—

- (1) Punctuality, regularity of attendance, and general habits of order, neatness, and politeness are strictly enjoined upon all pupils.

NOTE.—Parents and guardians are earnestly requested not to keep pupils away from School except for illness or some other grave reason. Tea-parties or other pleasure-parties will not be accepted as a sufficient reason for absence.

- (2) Pupils are particularly cautioned against marking or writing upon the benches, walls, or any part of the School buildings.
- (3) When pupils have been absent from any class they must, on their return, present to the Rector a note from their parents or guardians. This note must explain the cause of absence, and be duly dated and authenticated. When a pupil is absent beyond three days, a note of explanation is expected to be sent to the Rector, and all requests for leave of absence must be made to him by note at least a day in advance. Pupils must on no account leave school without a pass from the Rector.
- (4) When fever or other infectious disease is found to exist in a family, the Rector must be informed immediately, and the members of such family can only be admitted to the classes on producing a Medical Certificate.
- (5) Pupils should not be withdrawn from the school during the session without a note of explanation being sent to the Rector.

F E E S.

Fees are due and payable quarterly in advance. The Quarter Days are 1st September, 9th November, 1st February, and 12th April. A Matriculation Fee is payable by each pupil each session on enrolment. For particulars as to Matriculation Fee, Fees for Prescribed Courses, Fees for Classes apart from the Prescribed Courses, and Fees for Special Subjects, see pp. 15-16.

No claim of any kind will be considered unless intimated to the Treasurer before 20th June in each session. No deduction, however, will be made unless illness is duly certified, and in no case shall a deduction be allowed from the fees for Pianoforte Instruction, Dancing, or other special subjects.

Annual Report by the Rector

TO THE

DIRECTORS OF THE HIGH SCHOOL OF DUNDEE.

HIGH SCHOOL OF DUNDEE,
June, 1915.

GENTLEMEN,

I beg respectfully to submit to you my Annual Report.

During the present Session 610 pupils have been enrolled, viz., 370 boys and 240 girls. The enrolment for last Session was 605. These figures, however, do not quite accurately represent the relative enrolments of the two Sessions. For a good many years the High School has had a number, varying in recent years from twenty to nearly thirty, of "special" pupils, i.e. of pupils who, on the completion of their ordinary course at school, have come back for a further year, or, in some cases, for two years, to take such subjects as Music, Painting, Dressmaking, Cookery, &c., as special subjects. During the present Session, as a result of the many calls made by the war, only eight such pupils have been enrolled, as compared with twenty-six last Session. This means that there has been a substantial increase in the number of ordinary pupils, and that, but for the war, the total enrolment would have shown an advance on that of last year of about twenty-five, rather than five. That there is an increase even of five is very gratifying in the circumstances. In the Infant Departments of both schools the continuous increase which has been taking place for a good many years is well maintained this year—a fact of good augury for the future prosperity of the School.

The attendance, I regret to say, has been by no means so satisfactory as the enrolment. Whether as a result of the strain and excitement caused by the war, or of the exceptionally trying weather of the winter and spring, or of both combined, there has undoubtedly been a lowered vitality among children of all ages, which has taxed the powers of resistance of all but the very strongest, and made them an easy and ready prey to the epidemics of influenza, measles, whooping-cough, and the other ailments which have been so prevalent this year. The Staff, too, after a remarkably good record for many years in the matter of health, has been severely hit this Session, comparatively few members having escaped without one or more periods of absence through illness. These, however, are experiences by no means means peculiar to the High School, but common to the schools of the country as a whole, though probably more marked in the larger centres of population.

In the personnel of the Staff there have been no changes this Session beyond those necessitated by the enlistments for the war; and one in the Art Department. Up till now there have been four enlistments, one from each of the departments of English, Classics, Modern Languages, and Music—a very gratifying response, I think, considering the comparatively small number of young unmarried men on the Staff. Indeed, with one exception, where the circumstances, I understand, are peculiarly difficult, every unmarried man of military age on the staff has offered himself for service, one having been rejected on the ground of defective eyesight. The vacancies thus created have, except in the case of the Music Department, been filled by temporary appointments, and the new Assistants have, I am glad to say, applied themselves to their duties with earnestness and enthusiasm, and are doing very satisfactory work. In the Art Department the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Walker at the end of last Session was filled by the appointment of Miss Whyte, a distinguished student of the Edinburgh School of Art, who came to us with high recommendations from her last place, and has shown herself a capable, hardworking and successful teacher.

In the scheme of repairs and renovations projected by you some years ago, and now nearing completion, a further important instalment has been carried out during the past year, viz., the paving of the east entrance, the laying with concrete of the back court, and the re-flooring of about half the classrooms of the Boys' School. All these are very welcome and necessary improvements, both on the score of appearance and that of cleanliness, and have been much appreciated by pupils, staff, and cleaners alike. The only item of any consequence that now remains to complete your scheme is the re-painting of the interior of the Boys' School, and that, I have no doubt, will be undertaken as soon as it is found practicable to do so.

The Annual Inspection of the School by the Examiners of the Education Department took place at the usual time, and their reports on the subjects and departments of work examined by them will shortly be in your hands. Of the other subjects and departments I need only say that they have been conducted with the usual efficiency and success, and that the number of pupils in some of them, notably in the Pianoforte and Elocution Departments, shows a very marked increase. The Music Department, unfortunately, was deprived for a considerable part of the Session of the services of Mr. Milne, who, as you know, has passed through a period of severe and trying illness. We were, however, fortunate in securing for the pianoforte work the very capable services of Miss Low, and thanks to her, and to Mr. Phillipowsky, to whom I am deeply indebted for his helpfulness during Mr. Milne's absence, we have been able to carry on the work of the Music and Singing Departments as usual. Mr. Milne, who returned to work early last month, is now greatly improved in health, and will soon, I trust, be restored to his wonted energy and vigour.

In the Sewing Department all the ordinary work, except in the first three classes, was suspended throughout the whole Session in order to enable the pupils to work for the soldiers and sailors. This was done with the full and ready consent of the pupils themselves—a consent all the more generous as they knew that it would involve the suspension for the year of all prizes in the classes engaged in this work. A very large number of garments and comforts for soldiers and sailors were turned out in the course of the Session, and the Misses Matthew and their pupils are to be congratulated on their splendid and patriotic work. In the Cookery Department, where the number of pupils has steadily increased in recent years, there has this year, for reasons which I indicated at the beginning of this Report, been a marked decrease in the enrolment. That, however, is no fault of Miss Phinn's, as the enrolment will, I am confident, show when we return to normal conditions. The Elocution classes show a remarkable increase in the number of pupils, the enrolment being 54 as compared with 14 for the previous Session—a striking testimony to the appreciation of Miss Macdougald's work by pupils and parents alike.

The Literary Societies, the Boys' under the presidency of Mr. Dennler, and the Girls' under that of Miss Peat, have had a successful and enjoyable Session, and the attendance at both has been very good. The High School Magazine, which is essentially an outgrowth of the work of these Societies, has just made its third appearance since it was started last year, and it is gratifying to know, as we do from first-hand evidence, that the first two numbers have been eagerly welcomed by former pupils in various parts of the world, and have given pleasure and happiness to men who are fighting for their country on the battlefields of Europe and Africa. If for no other reason the continued existence of the Magazine would be amply justified by this fact alone.

The various Athletic Clubs of the School are in a healthy and flourishing condition, the Rifle Club, as might be expected at such a time as this, showing a very large increase in membership. The ordinary work of these clubs, and the Wednesday Afternoon Recreation Scheme have, in the interests of the pupils, been continued this year as usual, but the matches with other schools away from home in Football, Cricket, and Hockey have all been suspended on account of the war, and the money ordinarily spent in this way has, I believe, found its way into the Relief Funds. For the same reason, and out of consideration and respect for the many families connected with the High School which have relations serving in the war, a number of them alas! already in mourning, you decided to suspend for the present year the Annual Sports and the usual Exhibitions held at the close of the Session—a decision which had the warm approval of pupils, parents, and staff. One does not wish to see the lives of children darkened and saddened by the blight of war, but it would be foolish and reprehensible to fail altogether to bring home to them the seriousness of the times in which we live, and the sympathy and self-denial which such times demand even from the young. The School therefore closed very quietly, without Exhibitions or public display of any kind, the prizes being distributed in the classrooms, and the medals in the Girls' Hall before the assembled pupils and staff—a departure from the usual custom which would, I feel sure, be as much appreciated by the former pupils now on active service as it was heartily approved of by the present pupils and the staff.

At the Universities, and in the bursary and other competitions open to the schools of Dundee the High School continues to hold a high and prominent place. A large proportion of our University students, including some of the very ablest, have joined His Majesty's Forces since the outbreak of the war, but, making allowance for this fact, the record of the School for the past year has been a very satisfactory one indeed. A great number of medals, prizes and other honours have been won at the Universities of Edinburgh and St. Andrews, and seven former pupils have graduated with honours, two of them with Honours of the First Class. At Edinburgh University especially the small but able and hard-working band of High School pupils who have proceeded there during the last few years have done exceptionally good work. Four valuable scholarships and bursaries have been won by them in the course of the year, and they have taken the first place in their classes in ten different subjects, one of them being First Medallist in two, and another in three different classes. Of the bursaries I have mentioned one is the coveted Third Years' Bursary in Arts, and it is noteworthy that this has been won now for the third time in five years by a High School boy. Among the graduates of the year special reference is, I think, due to James G. Shearer, a former Dux Medallist of the School and a First Bursar of Edinburgh University, who has crowned what has been a most brilliant School and University career by graduating with First class Honours in Classics, and winning the Vans Dunlop Scholarship in Classics of £100 a year for three years. Of the band of able and promising students of whom I have just spoken several, including our two Dux Medallists of 1912 and 1913, who were also First Bursars at Edinburgh University, volunteered for the army in the course of the winter and spring, and others volunteered the moment the Session was over, one of them resigning a bursary which he had just won. The interruption, at the call of conscience and of country, of studies so brilliantly begun, is an inspiring example which will not be lost on others.

In the Leaving Certificate Examination the results for the present session, which have just come in, are highly satisfactory, the proportion of passes both in individual subjects and in Group Certificates showing a considerable advance on that of any previous year, and being 82 per cent. in the Intermediate, and 94 in the Leaving Certificate.

I have already at several points in this Report made reference to the war, and indeed such reference is inevitable in any report of this kind. I should like, however, before closing to put before you, as briefly but as comprehensively as possible, a statement of the part which the High School has played and is playing in this momentous struggle. At the present moment the School Roll of Honour numbers over 350 names, and new names are constantly coming in. When one looks at the average annual enrolment during the last twenty years, and also at the fact that the High School is a mixed school (40 per cent of the pupils being girls) it will be seen that the response made by the former pupils is an exceedingly gratifying one, and that the patriotic spirit and the love of liberty and justice which tradition ascribes to the School from the days of Wallace have suffered nothing from the lapse of time, but are as keenly alive in it as ever. Another gratifying fact is the very large number of enlistments among pupils who have quite recently left school, and also the high proportion (nearly 50 per cent.) of the total number enlisted who hold commissions. Further, among those who figure in the Roll of Honour it is pleasant to note the many names of former leaders of the School, whether in the class room or the athletic field, Dux and other Medallists and Athletic and Gymnastic Champions contributing a large proportion of their total number to the list. Our University men also, as I have already stated, have made a splendid response. Indeed, there are, I believe, few families connected with the School, who are in a position to do so, who have not given one or more names to our Roll of Honour, and some, including those of two of your own number, I mean Sir George Ritchie and Mr. Steven, have given three or four. In this connection I may perhaps be allowed to mention the pleasure and pride with which the Staff and pupils of the High School learned that Lieutenant S. H. Steven had been awarded the Military Cross for conspicuous gallantry at Neuve Chapelle on the 10th of March. With no less pride, but also with feelings of keen regret and sadness, I have to record that twelve of our former boys, most of them very young, have already laid down their lives. The present pupils too and the Staff have not been inactive or disinterested spectators in this great crisis. I have already spoken of the enlistments from the Staff, and I may add that a good many members who have not been able to enlist themselves have sons, brothers, and other near relations serving with the colours. Of the pupils two enlisted in the course of the Session, and others intended to do so as soon as it was over. In other respects also the School has done what it could to help the great cause which we all have at heart. Throughout the Session there have been regular weekly contributions of money both by the Staff and the pupils, and in this way and from several entertainments given in the School a considerable sum has been realised and distributed among the various Relief Funds. Of the work done for our soldiers and sailors by the Sewing Department I have spoken above. To those who would like a fuller and more detailed account than is possible here of the part played by the High School in connection with the war I would recommend an excellent article, kindly written for me by Dr. Murray, which appeared in the "Scots Pictorial" of June the 5th, and a somewhat shorter article, also by Dr. Murray, in this month's issue of the High School Magazine.

In conclusion I would express to you, gentlemen, to my colleagues, senior and junior, and to pupils, parents and all concerned, not forgetting the Treasurer, who has so kindly and readily placed at our disposal the services of his Office and Staff in connection with the School contributions to the Relief Funds, my sincere thanks for the help and support and encouragement I have received in what has for many reasons been an unusually heavy and trying Session. May I also offer my own and the Staff's warm and deep sympathy to all connected with the School who have suffered bereavement through the war, and also to the large number of parents and others connected with it who, though unbereaved, are spending days and nights of anxiety and suspense on account of those they love?

I have the honour to be,

GENTLEMEN,

Your obedient Servant,

JOHN MACLENNAN.

FROM

Scotch Education Department.

(AUGUST, 1915).

H.M. INSPECTOR, Mr. ANDREW,

REPORTS AS FOLLOWS:—

GENERAL REMARKS.

The enrolment again shows a slight increase, mainly in the primary department. The steady growth of the School, which has continued over several successive years, is very gratifying and more than counterbalances a decline in the enrolment for partial instruction in such subjects as Music and Needlework. The attendance during the session has been well maintained. The only changes on the staff have arisen through the enlistment in the army of several of the male teachers. To fill the vacancies, satisfactory temporary arrangements have been made, in two cases lady graduates of distinction (though as yet untrained) being employed. Since the date of last report the Girls' School has been repainted, the back court of the Boys' School has been laid with concrete, and some repairs have been effected on the roof. The repainting of the Boys' School has been deferred owing to the national situation. The excellent tone of the School is apparent both in the ordinary class room discipline and attitude, and in the entire absence of misuse of furniture, cloak-rooms, and offices.

ENGLISH.

The curriculum of English study is solid and well-balanced. The pupils are introduced to a wide range of literature, sound methods of study are inculcated, and systematic practice in written composition is given throughout. The candidates presented for the Leaving Certificate did well, being stronger, on the whole, in written than in oral work. At the Intermediate stage the standard of pass was not so good.

CLASSICS.

The Classical Department is under the immediate care of the Rector, and, as he takes part in the class teaching at the earlier as well as the later stages, the beneficial influence of his vigorous personality is felt throughout the whole course. Outstanding features of the instruction in Latin are the careful attention to quantity, which is exceptionally well known, and the extent of the reading overtaken in the Post-Intermediate classes. The subject-matter of the books read, with the relative history and geography, was in all cases intelligently grasped.

The number of pupils taking Greek is practically the same as last year, twenty-three as compared with twenty-four. The work in this language is throughout admirable.

FRENCH.

The accent throughout the French Department is generally very good, and the training of the ear has also been well developed. The most advanced pupils have a good knowledge of French syntax and composition, and in the oral examination the best of the candidates showed considerable aptitude in translating into English unseen French prose.

Within the limits of their profession of work, which is perhaps somewhat restricted, the Intermediate pupils made a satisfactory appearance.

GERMAN.

The number of pupils studying German shows a slight increase as compared with that of last year—seventy compared with sixty-seven. The course of study is well framed, and the oral teaching is of a high order. The wide range of German poetry committed to memory by the pupils is a most commendable feature. The candidates at the intermediate stage this year did not show to advantage in written work, but most of them were attempting the papers on two years' study of the language, whereas the normal period of preparation is three years. Their progress in German relative to their short course of study is praiseworthy. The first year's class has made an excellent beginning, and pronunciation was exceptionally good.

MATHEMATICS.

In the Mathematical Department the high standard of former years is very fully maintained. The rapid progress made by Classes V. (A) and VI. (A) is specially noteworthy, and the work done with the commercial classes is very interesting. The candidates for the Intermediate Certificate made a very satisfactory appearance under oral examination, and it was a pleasure to examine the pupils of the Leaving Certificate class, who had clearly been encouraged to think for themselves.

EXPERIMENTAL SCIENCE.

The teaching of Experimental Science continues on the high level of former years, a genuine interest in the various branches of Science being fostered in the minds of the pupils. The laboratory record books are specially well kept, and the pupils both at the Intermediate and the Post-Intermediate stages made a very creditable appearance under oral and practical examination.

EDUCATIONAL HANDWORK.

Educational Handwork in wood and metals continues to be faithfully carried on, and the boys show an interest in their constructive exercises.

DRAWING AND APPLIED ART.

The teaching of Drawing and Applied Art is in very capable hands, and the pupils' portfolios show a wide range of work in various mediums carefully executed. Drawing from life is very well done, and forms an important and interesting feature of the more advanced art work in the School.

PREPARATORY SCHOOL.

The Preparatory School was examined towards the close of the Session. In both boys' and girls' schools much good work was found, and it was evident that the instruction of the classes was carried on in a thoroughly conscientious manner. Occasionally there was relative weakness in Spelling and in Arithmetic, but the teachers were aware of these and were sparing no efforts to remedy them. There is a noticable improvement in written exercises.
